Member of a collaborative team from Southampton University and the University of Birmingham. The competition involved programming an AUV to perform various challenging tasks, and competing against teams from other universities.

Jan

Conversion of the Delphin AUV control system

to July 2011

Working together with a PhD student, we converted the control system of the Del-PHIN AUV built by Masters and PhD students from the University of Southampton from Matlab to Python, using the ROS framework. The conversion from Matlab meant that the control system was significantly faster than before, and having been written in Python with ROS as the control system, much easier to test and debug. This new control system was tested at the SAUC-E competition in July 2011.

Ост 2010 to July 2011 Founding member of Birmingham Autonomous Robotics Club

After discussions with researchers at the Department of Computer Science at Birmingham interested in robotics, it was decided to form a club for students who wanted to try their hand at using research-level robots to perform various tasks, which were intended to be displayed during open days at the department.

TEACHING

SEP 2010 to Apr 2011 Undergraduate Demonstrator at

DEPARTMENT OF COMPUTER SCIENCE, University of Birmingham

One of five second year students selected to demonstrate for the First Year Workshop Java module. Provided guidance to weaker students on potential ways to solve the assignments, as well as answering questions about programming concepts and the Java API.
